

GENDER EQUALITY

About 70 percent of world's population lives under the rock of gender equity. It is very common, especially in small towns and villages. Women have no rights over themselves and they are governed by their families. We are working to make things equal for them.